CROWD HELPS IN GOLF MATCH.

BOBBY JONES BEATS
CYRIL TOLLEY.

LUCK ALL AGAINST THE BRITISH PLAYER.

AMAZING INCIDENTS.

St. Andrew's, May 28.
Unprecedented scenes were witnessed at St. Andrew's this afternoon when Bobby Jones and Cyril Tolley met in the fourth round of the amateur Golf Championship. In the third round Jones had beaten C.
Shankland (St. George's Hill)
by four and three, while Tolley accounted for W. Fowles, a St.
Andrew's postman, by the same margin.

The match this afternoon was witnessed by a huge crowd,
ten thousand people trooping from fairway to fairway as the match progressed.
It was played down a human avenue which, on three occasions, saved Jones from trouble, for pulled shots hit the crowd and bounced back again.

These incidents occurred at the fourth, seventeenth and eighteenth holes. The two last ones were most critical, as at the seventeenth Jones's ball would have landed in the road if it had not struck the crowd and that would have meant the loss of the hole. Jones, however, was enabled to halve it.

Tolley's Cruel Luck.

Tolley tried hard to fight down
the cruel luck, but fate was against him towards the end. It took ten minutes to clear the course before Tolley and Jones drove from the eighteenth tee.
Tolley hit a stupendous ball which went for 300 yards and was right on the pin. Jones drove and his ball hit the crowd and rebounded on to the fairway.

The American ran over the green with his second. Tolley had a great chance of laying his second shot dead, but he played a timid shot which left him eight yards short of the hole. The hole was eventually halved in four,
Jones and Tolley then being all square.

At the nineteenth they both got beautiful drives, but both second shots went over the "Swilcan".
Tolley played his third, a run up shot, three yards from the pin but Jones stymied him, lying two yards from the pin.

Tolley Contemplates.

Tolley mopped his forehead as he knelt down surveying the ground. After some minutes of contemplation he took a mashie and bounced his ball on to Jones's ball, but it broke and ran round
the edge of the hole to end an epic conflict.

Other results during the morning and afternoon are given below:

Johnson (America) led Brabazon, the famous airman, four up at the turn and won by six and five.

Hezlett beat Neill (East Renfrew) four and two.
Wethered outplayed the plucky Douglas Fiddian, the conqueror of the English native champion and beat him seven and five.

Foster (Prince's) beat G. W.
Altney (America) three and one.
Brower (France) beat Spark, (Montrose) who knocked out Dr.
Willing in the second round, three
and one.

Von Elm (America) beat Anderson (St. George's Hill) two
and one.

Douglas Grant beat Osmund
Scott four and two.

McKenzie (America) beat
Holden (Sandway) six and four.
Quimet (America) beat Bower
at the twenty-first hole.

Kenneth Forbes (Cramond Brigg) beat Rowland Saunders (America) three and two.

Hill (Sandy Lodge) beat Rex Hartley (Coedon) at the twentieth hole.

W. Torrance beat Fovargue (America) five and four.
Waddell (Lundin) beat Stevens (America) at the nineteenth.

Voult (America) beat Major Martin (Port Rush) three and one.

The Fourth Round.

In the fourth round Hezlett beat Stephenson (Northumberland) six

SEVERE BATTLE WITH MOROS.

BIGGEST SINCE AMERICAN OCCUPATION.

SULTAN'S DEFIANCE.

Manila, May 28.
The most severe Moro battle since the American occupation of the Philippines is taking place at Lanao, in the Province of Mindanao. Ninety men of the Constabulary are storming the fortress of the Sultan of Ganassi, a recalcitrant Moro chieftain who is strongly entrenched.

The Sultan's supporters, the number of which is unknown, are armed with native weapons and home-made gunpowder. They succeeded in holding out for eight hours against machine-guns,
trench mortars and tear bombs.

The Constabulary forces retired at nightfall and are waiting until sunrise to renew the attack.

The offensive was undertaken by Colonel Luther Stevens, the Provincial Commander of Mindanao and Sulu. The Constabulary is enlisting seasoned veterans, both native and American, being determined to extinguish the outlaw defiance.

Governor John J. Hefington of Lanao Province, issued a three-day ultimatum which has not been answered. As a result, an attack was directly ordered by General Charles Nathorst, Chief of the Constabulary, with the sanction of the Governor-General, Mr. Davis.

The Sultan of Maamor, whose former resistance at another stronghold previously was responsible for the death of five members of the Constabulary, injuries to ten Moros and nine other Constabulary members, is known to be occupying the Sultan of Ganassi's cotta in the present attack and to be joining forces with him.

Several casualties in the present engagement are obscurely reported but are not confirmed owing to the lack of communications.—Reuter.

MISS AMY JOHNSON TIRED.

BRIEF SPEECH MADE AT CHARLEVILLE.

Sydney, May 28.

Miss Amy Johnson arrived at Charleville, Queensland, after dusk, twenty motorists concentrating their headlights on the landing ground to enable her to land.

In a brief speech broadcast throughout Australia Miss Johnson said:—"I am tired and I am going to bed. All I intend to say is 'Hullo Australia'. I will talk again more fully from Brisbane".

Messrs. Robertson, Wilson & Co., have received a cable stating that the engine of Miss Amy Johnson's aeroplane was lubricated with "Castrol" lubricating oil on her flight from England to Australia.

KING'S CONDITION IMPROVES.

NANKING SAID TO BE ALARMED.

TROOPS FROM SOUTH
WANTED.

OVER 20 STEAMERS COMING TO CANTON.

HEAVY CASUALTIES.

Shanghai, May 28.
Alarmed by the set-backs to the Nationalist forces fighting along the Lung-Hai Railway and the heavy casualties suffered,
the Nanking Government has reached a decision to withdraw all the Northern troops in Kwangsi and Kwangtung under Generals Miao Bing-wan and Chu Shao-liang in order to reinforce the troops on the Lung-Hai Line.

Orders have been given by Nanking to commandeer 21 steamers to proceed to Canton for the transportation of the troops. Nine steamers will leave for Canton this afternoon. The remaining vessels are expected to leave some time during the week-end.

Tanks Mobilised.

Great concern is felt at Nanking concerning the simultaneous Kuominchun advances along the Lung-Hai Railway and in Shantung Province, and in this connexion the Nationalist Commanders have mobilised a fleet of war tanks for Kweichow which will be in readiness to reinforce the Nationalist Army fighting for the possession of Lanfeng.

That both sides have suffered considerable casualties during the fighting outside Lanfeng is evidenced by the fact that on Monday there was no fighting at Lanfeng, both sides were short of men.

Nanking Finances.

Reliable circles state that the Nanking Government held a meeting at the Central Political Council this morning at which it was decided to request the Maritime Customs authorities to supply the Government with $10,000,000 for the maintenance of the war in the North.

The same meeting also decides to issue $50,000,000 war bonds.
It is not expected that the full sum will be issued at one time.

The strenuous efforts of the National Government to accumulate money for the war is said to be in connexion with Marshal Chiang Kai-shek's determination to spend huge sums in order to buy over certain Kuominchun Commanders.

Popular Opinion.

The Chinese newspapers here are giving much prominence to the fighting between Nanking and Shansi, and public opinion is generally inclined to think the latter will win.

The representatives of the Shansi Government are undertaking an extensive campaign in the outskirts of the city to enlist troops. Hundreds of these new recruits were sent to Taiyuanfu early this week for training purpose before leaving for the front.

Official Shansi messages state that Marshal Yen Hsi-shan is leaving soon for Tachow to direct the Shansi onslaught on Tsinanfu.

General Killed?

Conflicting reports prevail regarding the news that General Kuo Chu-tung, Officer Commanding
the Second Nationalist Division, was killed while directing the attack at Lanfeng on Sunday last.
The news was published extensively by the Shansi organ at Peking and Tientsin, while the Nationalist Headquarters at Hsuehowfu have issued an emphatic denial of the rumours.

If the rumours are true, the Nationalist troops must have been greatly shaken, considering that General Kuo Chu-tung is the most trusted Commander of Marshal Chiang Kai-shek's picked army.

Probably in connexion with the reported death of General Kuo Chu-tung is a Hsuehowfu report saying that Marshal Chiang Kai-shek flew from Hsuehowfu this morning to Hupeh to confer with General Ho Cheng-chun and General Ho Ying-ching. Later in the day it was announced that the conference had decided to appoint

CONTROVERSY RAGES.

London, May 28.
The report of the Economic Com-

the General Council of the Trade Union Congress today. The meeting passed a resolution expressing indignation at the publication of a private and confidential document and repudiating the interpretation of it by two Empire Free Trade

The report has created considerably controversy. It recommends that at the forthcoming Imperial Conference it be in the interests of the Trade Union movements for the Socialist Party to press for the fullest possible development of economic relations between Britain and the Dominions.

The report further urges the creation of machinery, and, if necessary, agreements with the Dominions for the further development of inter-Commonwealth trade and the best possible distribution

There is a controversy between

SOVIET REVENGE ON WOMEN.

MURDER OF FINNISH
MISSIONARIES.

BELIEVED REVENGE ON ANTI-COMMUNIST.

THEORY SUPPORTED.

Shanghai, May 24.
A remarkable succession of coincidences lends support to the theory, already held by many acquainted with the facts, that the three Finnish missionaries, the Misses E. Cajander, E. E.
Ingman, and A. A. H. Hedengren, who were murdered by Communist bandits in Kiangsi on February 3, were killed on instructions from some outside body, probably from Soviet Russia or the Third International.

Missionaries in touch with the situation as it was at the time of the killing of the three ladies are inclined to consider the theory too improbable to be true.

Killed For Revenge.

But responsible investigators on the spot have expressed the belief that the ladies were killed deliberately and in revenge for anti-Communist activities of Mr.
Lauri Ingman, the late Miss In-gman's brother, who is one of the leaders of the anti-Soviet movement in Finland to-day. Proof of this theory is impossible to obtain, but a review of the facts of the murders appears to provide at least prima facie evidence in its favour.

It will be recalled that the three ladies were murdered at the village of Lao Chiao on the Kan River while travelling by native boat. They were a few miles outside Kian, a large city in the province. The first reports received here stated that they had been taken captive, but these are now known to be untrue, since members of the Communist gang responsible have since been captured and have told the authorities that the three ladies were killed almost immediately, in circumstances of extreme brutality, and their bodies thrown into the river.
Some of their clothes have been recovered and identified by fellow missionaries.

Varying Views.

The Chinese authorities still refuse, however, to believe in the death of the three ladies, stating that definite proof cannot be had until the bodies have been recovered. Others believe that the tale told by the captured Communists is true and that all hope of the ladies' safety should long ago have been abandoned.

Reports subsequent to the murder stated that Miss Cajander died of exposure and that the other two ladies were slain; these are now, however, discredited and the fact is stated that the ladies were killed outright at the time of their capture.

According to mission sources of information the murderers were not the same as those who later captured Mr. and Mrs. Porteous and are still holding them to ransom.

Hated Foreigners.

These sources state that the three ladies were killed by the Nong Min Hsien Hui or Farmers' Union—a union of peasants who have been trained to hate all foreigners and wealthy people by means of consistent propaganda.
This union is said to have killed and robbed a number of rich people in Tientsin in the same province, and it is reported that 300 of them were at Lao Chiao
when the ladies were killed.

But a review of all the circumstances leading up to the murder throws rather a different light on the crime. Miss Ingman had returned from furlough in Finland
only a short time before the Communists became active in the neighbourhood of her station, Yungshin.

Former Finnish Premier.

Her brother, Lauri Ingman, is a very prominent man in Finland to-day. From November, 1918, to April, 1919, he was Prime Minister of the country, while it was still in a state of war with revolutionary Russia. The severance of SEQUEL TO RIOT AT BRADFORD.

COMMUNISTS FROM LONDON
SENTENCED.

London, May 28.
Sixteen people were prosecuted
at Bradford to-day in connexion with last night's disturbance when a crowd of three thousand people rushed the town hall in an attempt to rescue seven persons who had been arrested following rioting outside a mill where wool combers were working.

This was an ugly development of the Yorkshire wool wages dispute.
The Police used their batons and made many arrests. Eight rioters and one policeman were injured.
The sixteen people brought before the Magistrates to-day included two men from London who were sentenced respectively to two months' imprisonment for striking a policeman and a fine of forty shillings for obstructing the Police.

The prosecuting solicitor said
the men were Communists who recently came to Bradford with other outsiders for the purpose of stirring up trouble. The textile workers themselves were most peaceful.—Reuter.

COMMONS DEBATE UNEMPLOYMENT.

GOVERNMENT MARGIN
ON MOTION.

LIBERALS AND LEFT WINGERS
DO NOT VOTE.

NEW PLAN OUTLINED.

London, May 28.
A debate on unemployment was opened in the House of Commons by the Conservative leader, Mr. Stanley Baldwin, when he moved a motion to reduce the salary of the Lord Privy Seal, the Rt. Hon. Mr. J.
H. Thomas. The motion was eventually rejected by 270 votes to 241. The Liberals and six Left Wingers, headed by Mr.
Maxton, abstained from voting and the debate was adjourned.

Mr. Baldwin declared that anything less drastic than safeguarding of industries duties would not meet the case. He agreed that high tariffs were a bar to business, but they could not get the British tariffs reduced while the British market was the dumping ground to which all cheap goods could be sent.

The safeguarding of Home markets was the essential basis for the development of markets within the Empire and the pulling down of foreign tariffs had resulted from bargaining between one protected country and another.

Government Reply.

The Premier declared that in countries under protection unemployment figures had mounted more rapidly than was the case in England. Twelve months ago the problem was one of home conditions in relation to normal foreign markets. That was not the problem to-day.

Let them take any industrial country and it would be found that world causes had knocked the bottom out of prices and every country dependent on export trade had suffered.

He instanced Germany, where the unemployment figures had risen from 1,700,000 to 2,700,000, and the United States, which a year ago had practically no unemployed, and where there were now between five and six million.

A New Problem.

They were facing a totally new problem and the Lord Privy Seal,
Mr. Thomas, had done an enormous amount of work to relieve the situation.

He detailed some of the schemes put in hand and asked if they could not, in the face of the special growth of unemployment, undertake emphatic measures to tide over a period which every authority which been consulted agreed was temporary.

As soon as confidence was restored orders now withheld would be placed and they were just as likely to have a period of immediate boom.

In the provision of large schemes Municipalities were held up sometimes by technical difficulties and he asked if the parties in the Commons could not join in measures to expediate such work.

Municipal Conference.

Municipalities also might be encouraged to do more than at present, and the Government proposed to summon a conference of representatives of municipal authorities. The question of in-employment might well become a subject for co-operative action.

Sir Oswald Mosley suggested the establishment of a central unemployment organisation under the Prime Minister.

BIG TRANSACTIONS IN SPIRITS.

REVENUE AND EVASION OF DUTIES.

Wan Yip, the licensee of the Po Fung, a native wines and spirits shop, at No. 133, Belcher Street, was yesterday closely interrogated before Mr. Grantham, at the Central Magistracy, with regard to certain dealings he is alleged to have put through and which resulted in the Revenue being defrauded, so it is claimed, of duties on these transactions.

When the case resumed, Mr.
M. K. Lo, who appeared for Wan Yip and two of his foks, admitted possession of a lot of 4,000 gallons of Chinese wines named in one of the charges, but denied that any secrecy was preserved over this quantity, which was openly handled in the ordinary course of his client's business.

This curtailed the proceedings considerably, in that the prosecution was not now called upon to produce some 17 customers of the Po Fung to testify with regard to the transactions.

The evidence of one customer, which was called for, was to the effect that his purchases from the Po Fung were made through Lam Hing, the licensee of the Tin Wo Distillery, who was also arraigned before the Court on a separate charge arising from the transactions.

Mr. H. A. Taylor, Assistant Superintendent of Imports and Exports, and Government Monopoly Analyst, said he had examined the 20 jars, containing 80 gallons of what purported to be rice spirits, which were seized, and had found these to contain nothing more than spirits of wine with a small proportion of rice spirits. These spirits of wine were always the subject of special scrutiny from his Department, jars of wines brought for duty purposes to the examination shed being carefully looked over for the presence of alcohol.

Mr. Lo: Do you suggest that an honest dealer might know spirits of wine by the sense of smell?

Witness: By smelling and tasting.

Mr. Lo: So that if you don't taste it, you would not know it was spirits of wine?

Witness: Yes.

No Secret Dealings.

Before putting his client into the witness-box, Mr. Lo briefly outlined his case. This was that the book alleged by the prosecution to bear a record of secret transactions with Lam Hing was not concealed as alleged but kept in a place which one might expect all account books to be kept;
that Lam Hing being a well-known distiller as well as a man possessed of considerable "push"
and energy, the Po Fung had found it advantageous to do most of their business through him;
and that being such Lam Hing was broker in the commonly accepted sense of the term, and not an agent concerned in secret dealings, or in a conspiracy. Mr. Lo further said that the "secret"
book insofar as it portrayed all the transactions put through Lam Hing, was correct, and that if the names of three customers had been omitted therefrom, it was because those were direct dealings with the customers in question and had nothing to do with the man whose name gave the title to the book.

In the witness-box, Wan Yip bore out all the points recapitu-lated by Mr. Lo. After setting out figures, to account for the large quantity of spirits found in his books, he denied that he had defrauded the Government on 4,000 gallons of spirits which he had sold and on which he was alleged not to have paid duty.

Explaining other discrepancies in the Goods Inward Book, defendant said the price of rice was constantly rising, and he had

ECHO OF CURACAO RAID.

FORMER COMMANDER TO BE TRIED.

Hague, May 28.

Captain Borren, former commander at Curacao, has been sent for trial before a general court martial on the charge of culpable negligence, in allowing 500 Venezuelans under the revolutionary general Urbina to enter Willemstad undetected on June 8, 1929, and to seize the fort.

The raiders looted the armoury and escaped to Venezuela in an American steamer, which was com-mandered at the docks, carrying off
the governor, the commandant of police and several other officials.

The constabulary were surprised in the ensuing fight and lost a ser-

poral killed, and many men wounded.
The hostages were allowed to return after the raiders had landed in Venezuela.—Reuter.

correspondence appearing in the different local papers lately regarding the continuous drop in the Exchange I consider it is simply a waste of time. The Dollar must either be fixed or Hongkong must have a gold standard. Should nothing come out of this Commission of Enquiry, as it did a few years ago, the only remedy will be to call a public meeting and send a petition to the Home Government by cable. A subscription could be started for the cost of the cable. I should only be too glad to contribute my share.

PETITION.

THE VACCINATION.

GOVERNMENT'S THANKS TO ST. JOHN AMBULANCE.

The District Superintendent of the St. John Ambulance Association has received the following letter from the Colonial Secretariat:

Sir,—I am directed by His Excellency the Governor to request that you will be so good as to convey to those members of the St.
John Ambulance Association, whose names were notified in Government Notifications Nos. 561 of 1929 and 23 of 1930, the thanks of Government for their voluntary service as vaccinators during the recent small-pox epidemic.

"His Excellency desires me at the same time to thank you and your Corps Officer and Secretary for your work in this connexion."

RUMOURS DENIED.

ADMIRAL KATO HAS NOT RESIGNED.

Tokyo, May 28.

Admiral Kato has not resigned
his position, rumours to the contrary notwithstanding. Even should his resignation occur the Naval Treaty will not be affected.—

After 10 years of national prohibition, whisky is again being made legally in the United States as Kentucky distilleries have re-opened to manufacture 1,300,000 gallons under government supervision, to be sold on doctors' prescriptions. These pictures show mash being mixed in a huge fermenting tub and a barrel of the first legal whisky made in America in a decade.

Summit

Dress Shirts and Collars

Summit Dress Collars give the full-st interpretation to the approved style of to-day. Yet each has subtle difference which distinguish it—in the set of the wing, the width of the throat opening, the depth of the band. Enough to provide every man with the shape that suits him best.

Made in quarter sizes—four to every inch—Summit Dress Collars fit exactly. Choose the size marked on the neckband of your Summit Dress Shirt (or a quarter-size larger), and you will achieve complete comfort—both in putting on and in wear.

THE GIRL WHO ENJOYS LIFE.

It is just in her "teen age" that a girl should be getting most fun out of life. Yet so often it happens that girls of sixteen-to-twenty have outgrown their strength—are quickly tired, pale, nervous, generally run-down and unhappy. These are sure signs of anaemia, a condition that results from thin undernourished blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have corrected this in thousands of girls. Here is the personal experience of Mrs. M. M. Brown, a young wife residing at 53 St. John's Road, Fratton, Portsmouth, England.

"From the age of fourteen I suffered from a most obstinate form of anaemia," states Mrs. Brown. "During those years of misery I was constantly having medical attention, but all to no permanent avail. I often had throbbing headaches, and was so weak that mother had to take me away from school. So things went on until I reached the age of eighteen. I always felt ill and depressed. It was at the suggestion of a friend that I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. There was soon an improvement, and by the time I had taken the third box of the Pills I was a changed girl, all my ailments had vanished. I am now quite well and able to thoroughly enjoy life."

For climatic reasons Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are packed in glass neckless, hermetically-sealed bottles for sale in the Far East. As a blood builder and nerve tonic for both sexes their fame is ever-growing and worldwide. Your chemist can supply you, but be sure to refuse all substitutes, remembering that nothing else is "the same," or "just as good" as

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

QUICKLY PREPARED MENUS.

Here is a complete menu which can be cooked at one and the same time and without any attention in a "Eureka New World" Gas Cooker, fitted with the "Regulo" Automatic Oven Control. The various grid positions indicated are numbered from the top of the oven downwards in the type of gas Cooker mentioned.

Menu 3.

Roast Pork and Potatoes, Apple Sauce, Baked Onions, Sago Pudding.

"Regulo" Setting Mark 7. Time 1 Hour 30 Minutes.

Roast Pork and Potatoes.

3lbs. loin of pork.
1½lbs. potatoes.

Score the skin of the pork finely and brush over with salad oil, or cover with dripping. Put in the meat tin with a little water and the potatoes peeled, and cut in halves if necessary.

Apple Sauce.

1 lb. cooking apples.
1 oz. butter.
Little sugar and water.

Peel the apples, cut into thick slices and place in small casserole or saucepan, with the butter and a little water and sugar. Cover the pan with a lid before placing in the oven.

Baked Onions.

½ doz. Spanish onions, medium size.

A piquant fabric—parma-mauve taffetas sprinkled with flowers in a deeper tone—makes a piquant dress, with a tight little bodice finished with a couple of shaped frills over the skirt, long tight sleeves fluting into bells over the hands, and a cape lined with plain taffetas in the shade of the flowers....altogether charming!

Peel the onions, wrap each in greased paper and cook in a baking tin.

Sago Pudding.

2 tablespoonfuls fine sago.
1 pint milk.
1 oz. butter.
1 oz. sugar.
Little grated nutmeg.

Wash the sago, put in a greased pie-dish with the sugar, butter and milk. Grate a little nutmeg on the top of the pudding.

Roast Pork and Potatoes.—On fourth grid-runner from top of oven.

Baked Onions.—On sixth grid-runner from top of oven. Apple Sauce & Sago Pudding.—On lowest runner.

Of Interest.

ORIGINAL CLOCK.

A tiny sentry outside his sentry box forms an unusual clock. The wooden sentry box has a small space at the top, through which the number of the hours appear, and the soldier points to the correct number with his rifle, which is held in position over his shoulder. A small urchin is shown leaning at the soldier on one side, and a ragged tramp stands at the other, while the whole scene is covered by a glass globe.

Tortoiseshell and Gold.

An exquisite work box is made of tortoiseshell with gold fittings. Although the box is small, it contains most of the articles necessary for sewing purposes, and all these—scissors, thimble, &c., are made of gold. The box is also bound with gold, and would make an excellent present for the housewife or homely-minded woman.

Ties Again.

We are evidently going to revert to wearing ties with our jumpers, but we are to have no bother with tying the tie or keeping it in position, for it is to be made in one with the jumper.

Jade Bag Ornaments.

Jade as a decoration for bag tops is becoming more and more popular, and the latest innovation is to have small animals perched on the top of a bag. A black antelope model in the sac shape has a cheery green jade monkey shown eating nuts in the middle of the bag mount, and other animals or pets may be obtained.

Attractive Gongas.

Many women prefer a decorative gong to a more modern electric bell, and certainly some of these gongas to be seen in London shops are most attractive. A small round gong, made of brown metal and hung on a wooden frame, has a large bird, also made of metal, with a brilliant orange beak, sitting on the frame. The bird has the appearance of a macaw, and models of owls and parrots can also be obtained.

Novel Sugar Tongs.

A novel pair of gold sugar tongs is made in the shape of a dancing figure. The hands and feet of the figure are outstretched, and when the hands at the top are pressed, the feet pick up a lump of sugar from the sugar bowl.

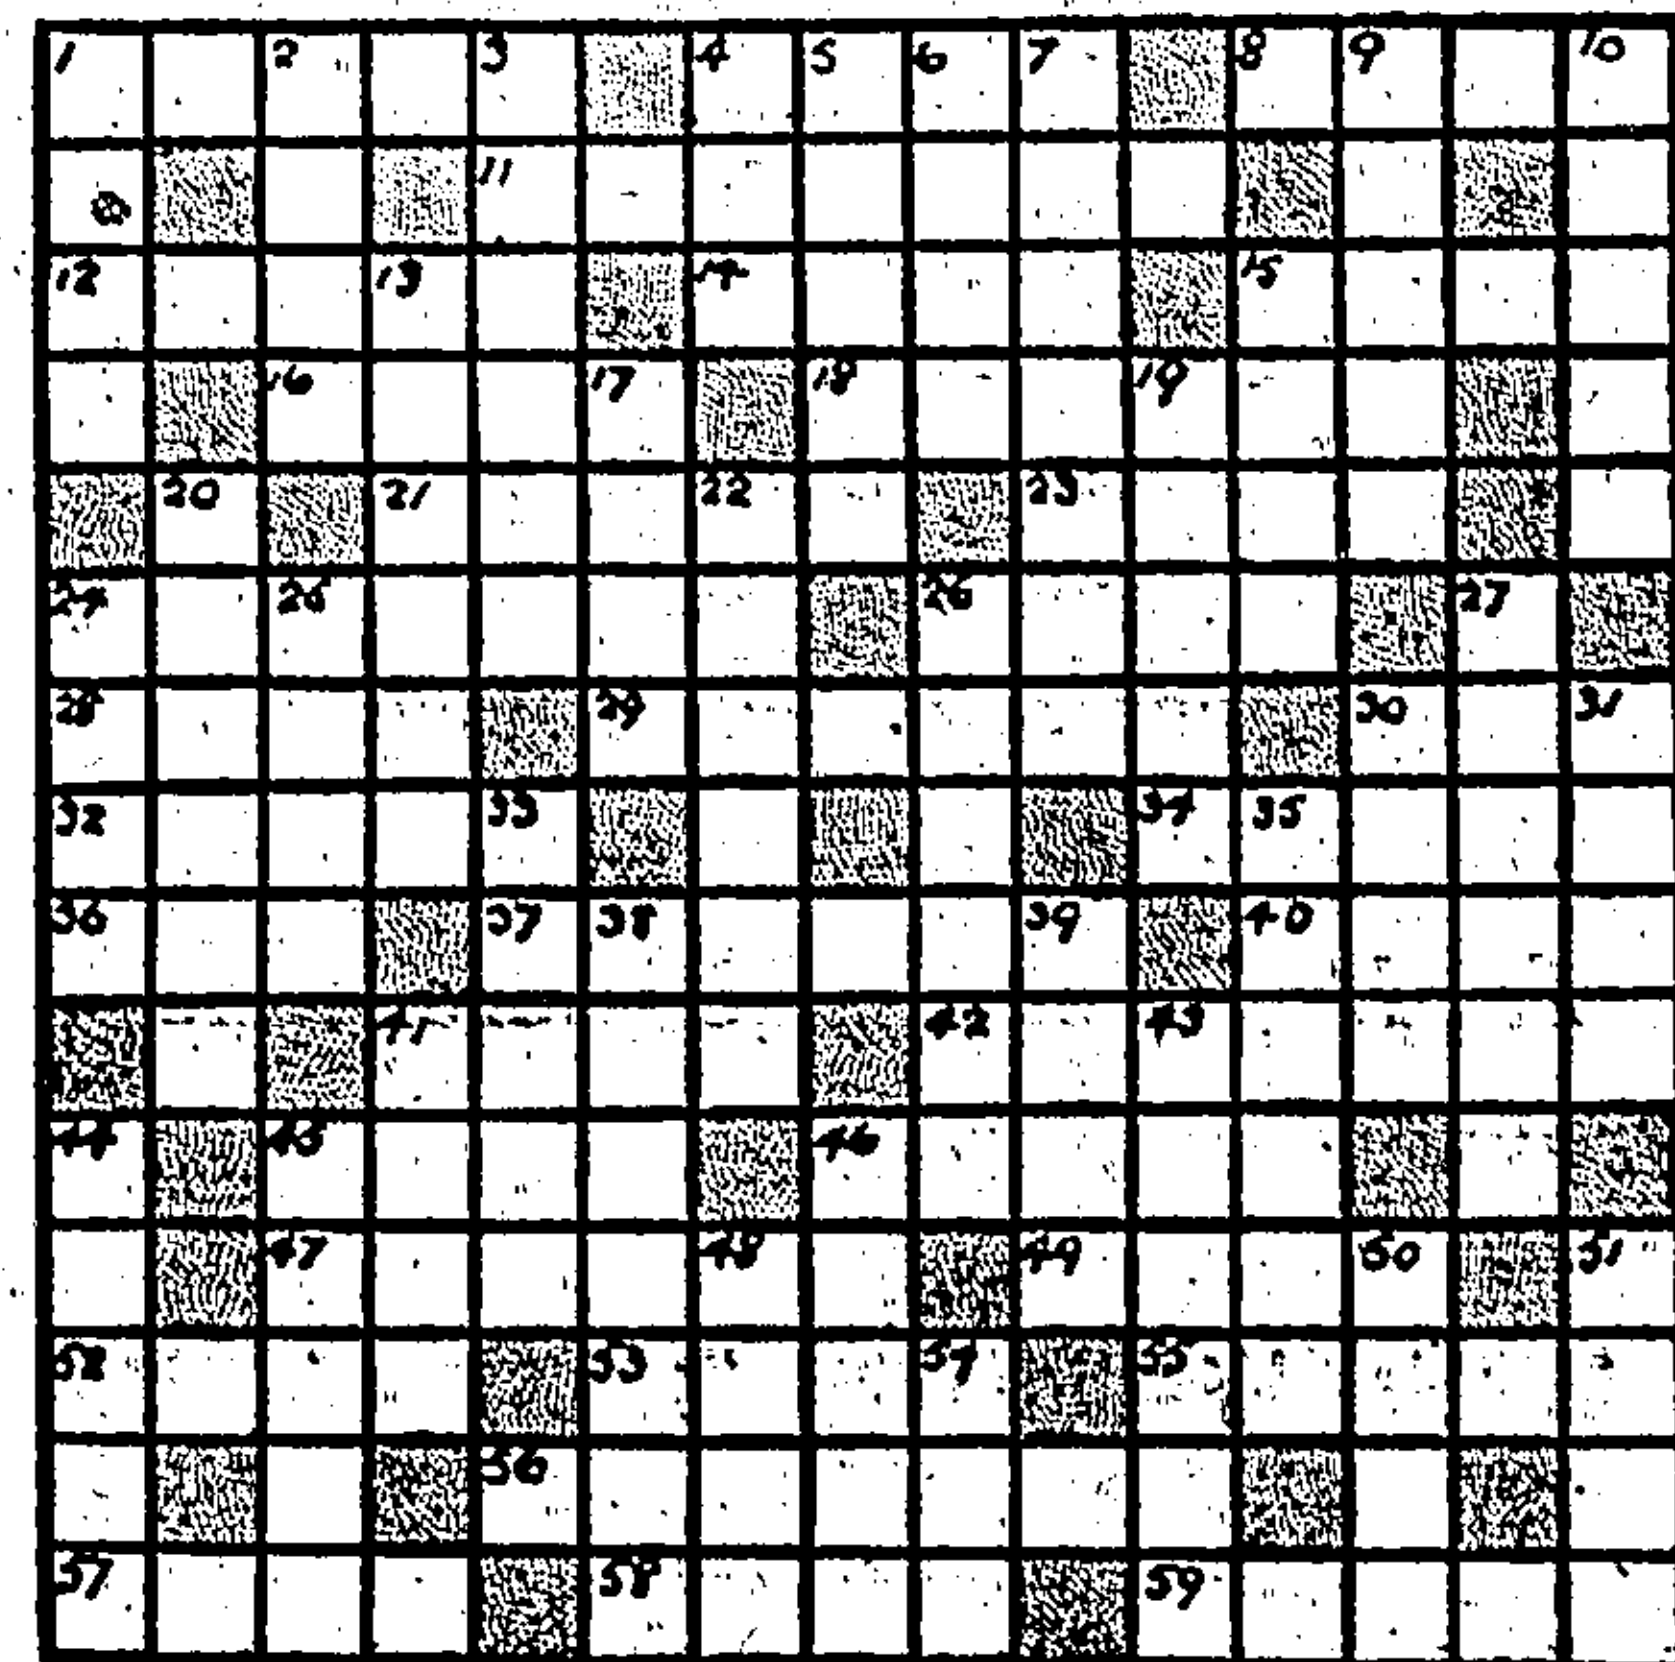

Useful Clock.

A small marble clock also provides a calendar, showing each day of the week, a barometer, and a thermometer. The clock face is raised above the rest, and set in marble, and directly underneath it is the calendar with the barometer and thermometer on either side.

Card Presses.

The ardent bridge player will welcome the new card presses which keep playing cards perfectly flat and prevent the edges from bending. The presses are made of silver, and the cards are placed in between two silver sheets, and a screw at the top brings these together and holds the cards firmly in place.

While a verger was sweeping up confetti in the grounds of St. John's Church, Chester, he noticed a newly-dug hole shaped like a grave in a space 5 ft. square near the road. He informed Canon A. G. Child, the vicar, who called in a detective, and the latter, aided by the verger, dug further. They found part of a skull and bones which appeared to be human. On the wall above the hole someone had scratched the words: "A curse is on this place."

SANITARY MATTERS.

Without in any way concerning ourselves with the particular application which provoked the Sanitary Board discussion on the question of granting permits for the installation of water-closets, we should like to place on record our agreement with the attitude taken on the general question by Mr. Wong Kwong-tin and his supporters. The fact that the crude bucket system is still so largely in vogue in this Colony is one which reflects no credit on the authorities, but, despite the obvious objections to this method of disposing of sewage, the impression continues to be felt that the sanitary authorities are setting their faces against any marked change for the better. That cannot, of course, be their intention, for improved sanitation is a matter vital to the public health, but their policy does at any rate smack of excessive caution in this particular matter.

The argument of the President of the Board that the granting of water-closet permits is likely unnecessarily to prolong the life of old buildings strikes us as being little short of astounding. There might be something in the contention if it could be shown that refusal to grant permits would automatically lead to rebuilding, but we know that that does not happen. If a building is so old and dilapidated as to be unfit for human habitation, there are ample powers under the existing laws for the condemning of the property. As Mr. Wong Kwong-tin said, to use the water-closet question as a lever for property improvement is an altogether wrong policy. If the property is fit for occupation, it will obviously be all the better for those living in it if they are permitted to have modern conveniences than to rely on the discredited system now in vogue, and, presuming that the requisite conditions are complied with, no obstacle should be placed in the way of those wishing to instal the water-flush system. To complain, on the one hand, of buildings being insanitary, and, on the other, to deny the desire for improvement, is the height of illogicality. On the question of mis-use of lavatories, we agree with some of the speakers at Tuesday's meeting that this is all too common an assumption. If that argument is always to be trotted out when applications are under consideration, we might just as well give up all ideas of educating the public in matters of hygiene. Or, to put it in another way, how can we expect to educate the masses in the proper use of these conveniences if we refuse permits on the ground that they might mis-use them?

Looking at the matter generally, we reach the conclusion that there is far too much tinkering with this question. It is time, as Mr. M. K. Lo remarked on Tuesday, that the Sanitary Board got down to some definite guiding principle. For this reason, we are in accord with the suggested motion that all applications be granted in the cases of premises not ordered to be abolished by the Building Authority, provided an adequate independent water supply is assured and the applicant undertakes to comply with existing regulations with regard to construction and maintenance. We see nothing unreasonable in this plea, which strikes us as covering all the essential points. On the matter of dealing with applications, there does seem to be unreasonable delay. The President of the Board says that a straightforward case normally comes before the Committee within a month of the application being made. That is far too long. If a private concern, conducted in business on such easy-going lines as this, it would soon lose its custom, as it would well deserve, to do.

Praya Water Tanks.

It is passing strange that the first suggestion that the brick water tanks on the Praya should be demolished comes when they have stood there for roughly a year, six months of which at least they have not been in use. The complaint comes from a godown owner who finds that the passage of coolies from the Praya to the godown is obstructed by a tank. He therefore urges its removal and now the Chinese Chamber of Commerce has decided to press for the removal of all the water tanks. Apart from the fact that the request seems distinctly belated, there are other aspects which appear to have escaped notice. The harbour pipe line appears to be regarded as having banished the water shortage bogey for ever. By means of the pipe line about 3,000,000 gallons of water can be brought over from Kowloon daily to prevent a famine on the Island. The fact seems to have escaped notice that the success or otherwise of the pipe line has yet to be demonstrated. While having faith in the department which was responsible for its construction, there are factors over which engineering skill can have little or no control and we believe it has been admitted that the pipe line might be damaged in typhoon weather. This fact seems to have escaped the attention of those who would demolish the brick tanks, together with the fact that there is some limit to Kowloon's supply. If it were inexhaustible, then restrictions would never have been necessary on the mainland. The bogey of another water shortage has not been relegated to the limbo of the past and while not desiring to be unduly pessimistic we consider that the long view is the one which advocates retention of the tanks until their necessity definitely vanishes. They were erected at considerable cost, they have not hindered traffic for a year or thereabouts and may still be required. It would be wise to regard them, for the present at any rate and until the other water storage plans have developed a little more, as part of the Colony's waterworks.

Two cases of typhoid were notified yesterday, one Chinese and one non-Chinese.

OPIUM CLEVERLY HIDDEN.SECRETED IN FIREPLACE CAVITY.

Noticing fresh mortar round one of the bricks in a fireplace at 3, Lower Lascar Row yesterday, a party of Revenue Officers under Mr. Grimmer came across a cleverly-concealed cavity containing 34 tins of prepared Government opium.

They questioned Chang Tseun and another Chinese and at the Central Magistracy this morning Mr. Lindsell imposed a fine of $4,000 or imprisonment for eight months on Chang Tseun, while the other man was discharged.

CANING FOR CHINESE YOUTH.MOTHER AGREES TO HIS PUNISHMENT.

Wong Wing-kung, who was remanded from yesterday by Mr. Grantham at the Central Police Court on a charge of stealing $437 worth of jewellery, the property of a friend, Chan Siu-yung, with whom he was staying at No. 66, Robinson Road, was to-day ordered to receive 12 strokes of the rattan.

This sentence was inflicted after the youth's mother, who had been sent for from Canton, had agreed with the Magistrate that her son deserved some sort of punishment. Some $160 worth of jewellery which had not been recovered was made good by the woman.

WORK ON A NEW HOTEL.BLACKSMITH FIRM GETS JUDGMENT.

A claim of the On Ting-lum firm, of Jubilee Street, against Chung Man-po, of the Hotel Nathan, for $320.80, being balance due for work done and material supplied, was heard by Mr. Justice Wood in the Summary Court this morning, when judgment, with costs, was given for the plaintiff.

Mr. A. E. Hall appeared for the plaintiff and the defendant was absent. The managing partner of the On Ping firm said their business was that of blacksmiths, and the defendant came to him and asked him to carry out work of fixing iron railings and water pipes. He told witness to charge the account to him. The work was carried out, and the account submitted, which the defendant had not questioned, neither had he paid.

His Lordship said the case was quite clear and entered judgment for the plaintiff.

CATHEDRAL GATE CRASHERS.WOMEN STORM WAY INTO A WEDDING.*IRREVERENT SCENES.

"Gate-crashing" by crowds of women marred the beauty of the spectacular wedding of Lady Millicent Tait, daughter of the Marquis of Headfort, to Mr. Hy. Marks in Westminster Cathedral.

Extraordinary precautions had been taken to avoid the noisy and irreverent scenes that took place. Nearly 1,000 guests had been invited to the ceremony, which included a full Nuptial Mass conducted by Father John Talbot, of the Brompton Oratory, and a Papal Blessing given by Cardinal Bourne, and which lasted nearly an hour and a half.

They had been requested to bring their invitations. Even Lady Olivia Tait, the year-old auburn-haired daughter of Lord and Lady Bective, son and heir of the Marquis of Headfort, waved aloft her own printed invitation, as she was carried in her nurse's arms.

Each card was scrutinised by a force of more than a dozen ushers, reinforced by commissionaires at the main entrance to the cathedral. At the arrival of the bride with her father practically every seat in the vast building was occupied.

Space had been provided for worshippers in the cathedral, who are always allowed to enter at any time of the day at a side entrance, to see the wedding, behind specially erected railings at the foot of the cathedral.

Directly, however, the bride and her father, followed by her retinue of children, had arrived at the altar, the crowd of women outside, repulsed from storming the main entrance by a strong force of police, discovered the open side entrance.

They poured into the cathedral, filled all the available space, and knocked down pews and railings in their efforts to get a view of the ceremony.

The noise of shuffling feet, women running from side to side of the side-chapels in the endeavour to see the bride, titters of laughter, umbrellas and bags being dropped, and chairs moved noisily by women who stood on tiptoe on them did much to mar the age-old beauty and solemnity of the full traditional Catholic rites.

As a contrast no more reverent bride could have been found than Lady Millicent Tait. She was a slim and stately figure in her creamy satin gown reaching to the ground, with long sleeves tapering over her fingers, her face covered beneath a tulle veil, and her eyes downcast upon her sheaf of Madonna lilies until she reached the altar.

Unfortunately, towards the close of the long service, the general spirit of unrest infected one of the little bridesmaids, who abandoned her place in the procession, executed an impromptu dance, displayed with pride her aquamarine cross (a replica of Lord and Lady Headfort's present to the bride), and finally ran out of the cathedral ahead of the bride and bridegroom, to the great amusement of the crowd.

HUMAN CHAIN ON A LADDER.MORNING BLAZE IN A BLOCK OF FLATS.

By forming a human chain on a window-cleaner's ladder, a number of women and children were rescued from fire in a block of flats in Bedford-street, Liverpool.

After most of the men folk in the flats had gone to work, two men working on a roof opposite saw smoke and flames issuing from the ground floor.

They rushed across the road with a window-cleaner's ladder, and, with a passer-by, set to work to rescue those trapped on the upper floors.

On the top floor were Mrs. Blakemore and her three young children, all of whom were in bed when the alarm was given.

Dense smoke prevented the rescuers entering the building, but they pulled the mother and her family through the window and passed them safely to the ground.

Two other women were rescued through the window of the first floor flat, and received treatment for shock.

After the others had been saved a fireman discovered Jean Hurley, aged eight, whose mother was away on the top floor. He brought her through the window and down the ladder.

In all eight children were saved. Mrs. Blakemore said, "I was going to throw the children from the window to the balcony below, when I saw the ladder coming across the window."

The Very Idea!

Mr. J. B. Challen, an English headmaster, vouches for the following "howlers":

One "boy" said "pas de deux" meant "the father of twins", another that "coup de grace" signified "a lawn mower", and a third that "the Eiffel Tower" was "a sort of jelly, Eiffel evidently being confused with trifle."

When one boy in an essay declared that Shakespeare was a great poet who wrote "Lady Be Good," Mr. Challen drew from him the admission that he had spent his holidays "doing" the London theatres.

(Crews of warships are now served with confectionery and "soft" drinks.)

When Jack has got his pay he's the gayest of the gay.
And he dives into the nearest candy shop.

For a healthy seaman's raid on a spot of lemonade
And a slab of cake with icing on the top.

He's been known to run amok at the sight of almond-rock,
And although at pretty girls he'll sometimes wink,
He's as steady as a can be till he finds himself at sea—
Having looked upon the sundae when it's pink.

The sermon had been about the Fall of Man.

"Well, Davit," asked one farmer of another after the service, "an' what did ye think o'd?"

"Oh!" Davit replied, "the sermon was a' richt, but I was just thinkin' what a difference it would hae made to the history o' the world if I'd been in Adam's place. Ye see, I dinna like apples!"

The conjurer made a frantic search through his clothes, turning his pockets inside out and bringing forth, among other things, a rabbit, a top hat, three Union Jacks, a drum, seven eggs, the ace of spades, a bird in a cage, two guinea-pigs, three silk handkerchiefs, and a bowl of goldfish.

"There!" he exclaimed triumphantly to his wife, who had been watching him with grim suspicion, "I told you I was positive I had posted your letters this morning!"

Two Scotsmen, after having dined in a London restaurant, sat on for hours after they had finished the meal. "First they talked, but later on silence fell between them."

Suddenly one of them rose, and going to the telephone, asked for a number, and then said:—"Hello, is that you, Maggie? Dinna wait up for me; it looks like a deadlock."

Dr. Joseph Hunter, M. P., recently related that unkind things had been said about Dumfries and Edinburgh in their relationship to Burns.

He recalled that at a football match some years ago at Dumfries, one of the linesmen gave a decision that did not meet with the approval of the crowd.

The linesman said nothing until the ball was in play. Then he turned to the crowd, and with the utmost scorn explained:—"Ye starved Robbie Burns."

The Annual General Meeting of members of the Theosophical Society, Hongkong Lodge, is advertised to take place to-day at 8 p.m. at No. 7, Queen's Road Central, 2nd Floor.

WHO WAS RHADAMANTHUS?

According to the legends of ancient Greece and Rome the spirits of the dead voyage to the kingdom of the underworld, where they were summoned before the three great judgment seats of Aescus, Minos and Rhadamanthus, who meted out rewards and punishments to each in accordance with his deserts.

Rhadamanthus had been chosen by the gods for this office because of the fair and just laws which he had formulated during his earthly existence. The son of Zeus and Europe, he had been driven from his island home of Crete by his treacherous brother, and had fled to the Asiatic islands, over which he ruled for many years.

After the death of Amphitryon, Rhadamanthus married his wife, Alcmene, the mother of Hercules, to whom he proved a sage counsellor in the paths of wisdom and virtue.

When at last Rhadamanthus came to die, the gods acknowledged his life of piety by appointing him to dispense justice for which he had been so renowned in his former sphere.

PROPOSED CINEMA COMPANY.

LEE HYSAN ESTATE CLAIM
FOR $6,000.

MAY BE SETTLED.

The claim by Wong Lan-fong of $6,000 from Lai Pak-hoi, made as the executrix of the will of the late Mr. Lee Hysan, purported to be money lent by the deceased to defendant, and due under two Chinese promissory notes, was mentioned before the Chief Justice (Sir Joseph Kemp) at the Supreme Court this morning, when His Lordship informed the plaintiff that he understood the matter would probably be settled out of Court, and that he would adjourn the case sine die.

The particulars of plaintiff's claim are that some time in December, 1927, the deceased arranged with the defendant for the formation of a company for the production of cinematographic films. The defendant was to provide certain apparatus which the company were to purchase for $25,000 by the issue of shares.

Defendant asked for an advance of $6,000 for the purpose of releasing the apparatus and deceased accordingly advanced the money. The apparatus was delivered to the deceased pending the formation of the company. The deceased died on April 30, 1928, when the scheme for the formation of the company fell through. The sum of $6,000 became repayable by the defendant to the estate of the deceased and the apparatus became repayable to the defendant by the estate.

It was later arranged between the defendant and Lee Hylup, brother of the deceased, acting on behalf of the plaintiff, for the $6,000 to become repayable on demand and the apparatus to be held as security. The plaintiff had demanded the repayment of the money and was ready and willing to redeliver the apparatus against such payment, but the defendant failed to repay the sum or any part of it.

The plaintiff now claimed judgment against the defendant for $6,000 and execution against the property of the defendant and for costs and any other relief.

Messrs. Wilkinson and Grist are acting for the plaintiff.

Finland from Russian domination had already been achieved, and Mr. Ingman had been one of the most active in bringing this about.

Shortly after this Mr. Ingman evolved the scheme of defence for his country which is still being carried out to-day. This scheme of defence created a great stir in Soviet Russia when it became known, since it was mostly directed against possible encroachments from that quarter. Ever since that time Mr. Ingman has been prominent in the leadership of anti-Communist movements in his country, and has more than once attracted the ire of the Soviet.

It may be supposed from these facts that the heads of Communism would stop at nothing—judging from their other and definitely proved accomplishments—to embarrass such an enemy to the utmost.

Built into Hiding Place.

The first report of danger to the three Finnish ladies who were stationed in Yungshin, Kiangsi, came in December last year. Some days later a very graphic account of the ladies' escape from Communists, which did not mention names, was published in the N. C. Daily News. One of the ladies was then out of the neighbourhood, but two others took refuge in a loft during the Communist outrages on the people. They were in a village in the district, and for two days hid in a mud house near the river, returning every night to their loft. On December 1 the Communists searched the village, while the two ladies were in their loft. Every loft in the house they were in was searched except theirs, though Communist soldiers even peered into that and, seeing nobody, left without a detailed inspection.

So obvious was it that the Communists were looking for the foreigners that the other villagers, after the bandits had gone threatened the man in whose house they had been concealed. He, however, would not hear of their departure, and, since a wall was being constructed in his house, built them into a small, specially contrived compartment, where they lay hidden in dark and discomfort for three nights and two days. Then, on a night when the coast seemed clear, they took flight from the district.

No Ransom—Only Murder.

The Communists, however, seemed especially anxious to capture them, and on hearing of their escape set out in pursuit. The

UNUSUAL CASE IN COURT.

MARRIAGE SWINDLE ON A FARMER.

FATHER CONVICTED.

An extraordinary story was told to Mr. Grantham at the Central Police Court this morning of how a man employed his 20-year-old daughter for the purpose of carrying out a successful swindle on a farmer from Shatin.

Although now more than two score years of age, the farmer was still susceptible to such a proposition as was made to him the other day when a man offered to give his daughter in marriage to him, conditionally on his paying a sum of $200.

Before the marriage was consummated, the groom found himself deserted by his bride. It was subsequently learned that she had gone away with her father.

The case, which is one generally styled by the Chinese as "flying the white pigeon," had a sequel to-day before the Court, when the father of the "bride" was charged with obtaining money by false pretences.

He was identified by the police authorities as having at one time been employed as a police searcher on the waterfront, who was afterwards dismissed for a reason which is not shown in the records.

Subsequently, he was associated with a case in the New Territories. Having sold a younger daughter to a family as a "pumpkin" or betrothed bride, he next endeavoured to take her back by kidnapping her.

It was his intention to re-sell her to another family, when he came within police attention and was arrested on a charge of kidnapping. As the facts concerning the first sale of the girl were disclosed and as it was found that she was his own daughter, the charge of kidnapping the child was not proceeded with, but the man was sent away.

Recently, he again came into prominence on account of the present case. "We believe he makes a living by trafficking in girls," said Inspector Smith, in charging the man before Mr. Grantham this morning.

A fine of $250, or four months' imprisonment, was inflicted.

A sum of $70 recovered by the police on the prisoner was returned to the farmer whom he had swindled out of $200.

CLUB DE RECREIO THEFTS.

CHINESE ADMITS STEALING
TWO FANS.

The theft of two electric fans from the premises of the Club de Recreio in King's Park was mentioned before Mr. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning, when a Chinese was charged with the theft of both on two different dates.

The defendant pleaded guilty.

Inspector Marks said that some time on Monday last the Club de Recreio lost an electric fan, but no report had been made to the police. The employees were instructed to keep a sharp look-out and yesterday at about 1 p.m. the defendant was seen leaving the Club with another electric fan. A "boy" chased the defendant and had him arrested. On enquiries being made, the defendant subsequently admitted having taken the fan which was lost on Monday, and which he had pawned for $15.

The Officer pointed out to his Worship that, being a Club, the premises were always open and the employees could not be on the spot all the time. Anybody could sneak in and take anything away. The defendant was given six months' hard labour on each charge.

wife of the man who had been hiding them had been beaten until she confessed where they had gone. And so on during the whole of their flight.

At one place they learned that the Communists had looted the home of one who had given them a night's shelter, sixteen men coming to the place and searching it thoroughly for signs of them.

Just Butchered.

Everything in the account seems to point to the fact that the Communists were especially anxious to lay their hands on these ladies—a fact which becomes most significant when it is remembered that, when the ladies were finally captured, when they considered themselves safe, they were killed without ransom being asked. They were murdered without apparent motive, whereas other missionaries, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Porteous, for instance, who are still in the Communists' hands, appear to have been well-treated, pending negotiations for ransom. In the case of the three Finnish ladies, no ransom was asked. They were just butchered.

PAPERS WHICH WERE ONLY FOR LIGHT DUES.

OFFICER MISTAKEN.

Mr. A. J. N. Wood, acting master of the s.s. Kochow, was this morning fined $20 by the Harbour Master, the Hon. Commander G. F. Hole, R.N., retired, at the Marine Court, for taking the vessel to sea without a clearance on May 24. Defendant produced some papers which turned out to be light dues bill and receipt, and defendant, who said he thought those papers constituted the clearance, remarked, "I only take what they give me. If I started to kick up a noise down below (in the clearance office) I should get into worse trouble than I am now."

Mr. R. A. Bates said that on the morning in question he was on duty and at about half past ten defendant asked for the light dues bill, stating that he wished to pay the money. Witness added that he made out the bill and gave it to defendant. He did not see defendant again that day.

Mr. Pang Yuk-lung, clearance clerk, stated that no one asked him for a clearance for the Kochow that morning and there was no one else on duty from whom a clearance could have been obtained.

Defendant, in the witness box, said that he was the Chief Officer but was, at present, acting master. On Saturday last he went to the Harbour Office to clear the ship. He paid the money and was given papers.

His Worship:—These are only a bill and receipt for light dues?—Well, that is all you pay.

Why didn't you take out a clearance?—Well, that is the clearance they gave me.

This is not a clearance?—I don't know much about Hongkong regulations. I only take what they give me. If I started to kick up a noise down below I should get into worse trouble than I am now.

How long have you been at sea?—About 45 years.

How long have you been in command altogether?—Something like ten years.

Have you ever obtained a clearance in Hongkong before?—Yes, three or four times.

Do you know you have got to have a paper which is called your clearance before you go to sea?—Yes.

This is clearly marked a bill for light dues, and this other paper is clearly marked as an original receipt for money?—Yes, that is right. I always thought that was the clearance.

Well, it is about time, if you are in command of a ship, that you knew your job—I know my job all right. I only take what they give me.

Defendant was fined as stated above.

SOME SHOWERS.

The Royal Observatory reports that a depression is central over the Gulf of Tongkong. The typhoon is about 150 miles East of Basco, moving East. The local forecast is:—East winds, moderate, fair generally; some showers.

A Manila warning issued at 6.30 p.m. yesterday states that the typhoon was near or over the Balintang Channel, moving east.

THREE MONTHS FOR DOG THEFT.

EUROPEAN CAUSES ARREST OF CHINESE.

ABSURD DEFENCE.

Noticing a friend's dog being reluctantly dragged along by a strange man, Mr. G. A. Bond, of 7, Nanking Road yesterday morning became suspicious of the actions of a Chinese, who, on being approached, released the dog and ran away. He was chased and eventually caught and it was subsequently discovered that the defendant had stolen the dog from the owner's house in Parkes Street.

There was a sequel before Mr. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning when a charge of theft was brought against the man, who denied larceny, stating that whilst walking along the dog's leash had become entangled around his leg. He was releasing himself when he was accused by Mr. Bond of stealing the dog.

Giving evidence, Mr. Bond said he saw the defendant dragging a dog along Nanking Road at 7.30 a.m. yesterday. The animal seemed reluctant to follow the accused. Recognising the dog, witness approached, but the defendant ran away. He was pursued and caught and then taken to the house of Mr. Lee Cho-ming, the owner of the dog.

Mr. Lee intimated that the dog had been let out early in the morning with a muzzle, but not on a lead. The tape which was attached to the animal as a leash did not belong to him.

After hearing further evidence, his Worship registered a conviction.

Inspector Marks intimated that recently quite a number of valuable dogs had been stolen and recalled the loss of a valuable spaniel belonging to Mr. D. Burlingham, Divisional Superintendent of Police for Kowloon.

His Worship said the value of the dog was not only its monetary worth but if a person were fond of his pet it was more valuable to him than what the animal actually cost.

The defendant was given three months' hard labour.

SHIP'S REPORTS.

BRITISH GREASER REPORTED MISSING.

According to a report made to the Harbour Office by Capt. A. C. Inglis, of the s.s. Seistan, from Swatow, the ship went aground in the upper part of Swatow Harbour on very soft mud. She was got off without assistance, apparently undamaged. The report adds that the pilot was in charge at the time.

On the arrival of the m.v. Tantalus (Capt. R. Dods) it was reported that a greaser named J. Dasher aged 38, British, was missing, and his loss was discovered on May 13. The ship came from Runcorn and Hankow.

The Tenyo Maru, from Los Angeles and Shanghai, reports that during the voyage two steerage passengers died from tuberculosis.

The death of a Chinese passenger from consumption is reported by the master of the s.s. Sinkiang (Capt. C. H. Jones) from Shanghai and Swatow.

CROWDED THEATRE GANGWAY.

MANAGEMENT OF THE PO
HING FINED.

DANGERS STRESSED.

The danger of allowing people to stand in the gangways of a theatre during a performance was brought home to the management of the Po Hing Theatre when Mr. Chau Wai was summoned before Mr. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning for committing a breach of his permit on May 1, on which date it was alleged some 50 to 60 persons were standing in the gangways.

The defendant stated that when the people were found standing in the gangways it was just prior to the conclusion of the performance and certain members of the audience had left their seats in preparation to going out.

Sergeant Danbrowsky, giving evidence, said that he visited the theatre at 11.15 p.m. on May 1 and saw about 50 or 60 people standing in the gangways. He gave instructions for them to be cleared but on his return at 11.55 p.m. they were still there.

In his defence, the defendant repeated that the people were about to leave the theatre, it being five minutes before the end of the performance.

His Worship replied that he did not think that Chinese were any different to Europeans in that respect. He did not think that Chinese got up five minutes before the end of the performance.

In reply to his Worship, Sergeant Danbrowsky said that on both visits the accommodation on the ground floor of the theatre was fully taken up. Witness waited for about seven minutes on the second occasion until the end of the performance but people did not start to leave their seats before the end.

His Worship pointed out to the defendant the danger of allowing people to stand in the gangways remarking that in the events of fire it would be much more dangerous to the members of the audience if the gangways were obstructed.

On convicting the defendant his Worship imposed a fine of $50.

GOLFER'S STRANGE EXPERIENCE.

NEARLY STRUCK BY AN AEROPLANE.

Farnborough (Kent) police are investigating a report of alleged dangerous stunting by an aeroplane over Downe Golf Course.

According to the report of a club member, an aeroplane, said to have been piloted by another club member, swooped down upon the course close to him.

He was compelled, he said, to fall flat on his face to avoid being struck.

He had scarcely stood up again and recovered from his fright before the plane circled round and swooped down again.

The member said he had to lie prone on the ground again for safety.

A man who was present said he saw the aeroplane "stunting."

"I saw it circle round and round, zooming close to the ground and up again."

"It seemed to me that he was unusually low, and I was afraid for his own safety."

"But the pilot had the machine under control. He made a satisfactory landing, got out, and played a round of golf."

An official statement issued at Scotland Yard revealed that the complaint had been made by Mr. Ernest Lane, of Millbush, Lutetia-road, Downe.

The complaint was first made to the Secretary of the golf club, of which the pilot of the aeroplane is a member.

The statement added that the machine was slightly damaged in landing. The pilot was unhurt.

PRINCE AS AIRMAN.

FLIGHT TO ESTATES IN WEST OF ENGLAND.

London, May 28.

The Prince of Wales, who is an experienced airman, and who makes frequent use of his private Moth aeroplane for journeys in England, flew to-day to visit his estates in Cornwall and Devon.

On arrival at Okehampton, the Prince was accorded a warm reception, many horsemen and horsewomen being present.

The Prince was not dressed for riding, but he asked for a mount and at once went for a gallop over the moors before proceeding on his journey, by motor-car.—British Wireless.

$2,500 HAUL OF JEWELLERY.

DIRECTOR OF BANK OF ENGLAND ROBBED.

PEARL NECKLACE.

Burglars who raided the London house of Mr. G. M. Booth, a director of the Bank of England, got away with jewellery worth £2,500. After the raid they polished the furniture with oil so that no incriminating finger prints should remain.

Despite this, detectives have discovered certain marks which they believe to be finger prints, and Scotland Yard experts photographed a decanter.

The robbery took place, when Mr. and Mrs. Booth were away for Easter.

The staff of their house in Chester-street, Grosvenor-square, W., was depleted owing to the holidays, and for about an hour the house was left unattended.

Two maids who were in sole charge returned from a walk to find the basement door bolted after the lock had been forced with a jemmy.

Entering the house by the front door, the parlormaid found that Mrs. Booth's bedroom had been ransacked.

It would appear that the thieves had an extensive knowledge of the house, for they went straight into the room where the most valuable jewellery is usually kept.

Fortunately, Mrs. Booth was wearing a good deal of it.

Valuable Necklace.

The greatest loss is a very fine necklace of graduated pearls with a diamond clasp, valued at £1,500.

Mr. Booth, who returned to London immediately he was notified of the burglary, made a complete inventory of the 24 missing articles, and said they included costly rings, pendants, and bracelets.

Describing what happened, the parlormaid told a reporter that she thought she must have disturbed the burglars when she went in.

"I am almost certain that they were still in the house," she added. "My coming down the staircase gave the thieves plenty of time to let themselves out of the front door."

EINSTEIN'S NEW THEORIES.

LAWS OF GRAVITY AND ELECTRICITY.

ONE FORMULA.

Can Man ever find the "First Principle," the "Primary Element," the beginning of all things material?

Now Professor Albert Einstein, the originator of the theory of "relativity" is trying to discuss the problem in a new work on the beginnings of which he has been engaged for two years.

In a cautious exclusive statement to me, Professor Einstein has written:

"It is true that I have been working for two years on a new foundation for the general theory of relativity.

"That thesis would treat gravitation and electricity as a uniform condition of space.

"But the calculation of the consequences of this theory have not progressed sufficiently as yet to permit comparison of the theory with practical experiments."

To friends, Professor Einstein went further and admitted that the "new foundation" is turning into "a practically new theory."

His latest work, submitted to the Prussian Academy of Science, hints at least at a re-formation of the theory to square it with the results of his new calculations.

Abroad, it has been wrongly suggested that Einstein maintains that gravity and electricity are one and the same thing.

"Quadrimensional."

Einstein himself characterises the relation between gravitation and electricity as a "uniform condition of space."

But here it should be remembered that Einstein's "Space" is a space in which "time has been added to the three ordinary dimensions of 'length,' 'breadth,' and 'depth.'"

Professor Freundlich, of the Einstein Tower at Potsdam (where Einstein theories are tested) holds that the Einstein theory has already reduced nature to two "fields."

Some day, he believes, science will get beyond these two "fields," and will discover the one primary principle from which gravitation and electricity and all this material world originated.

So far, all is theory and research; but Einstein's method, as he himself has explained, is to search for the "logically simplest law to which a structure can be submitted."

CINEMA NOTES.

WILLIAM DE MILLE SCORES IN "THE IDLE RICH."

"The Idle Rich," which opens to-day at the Queen's Theatre as a new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer talkie feature, is William de Mille's third all-dialogue picture.

The noted director's first sound picture was "The Doctor's Secret." His next was a picturization of his own dramatic sketch, "The Man Higher Up," in which the late Theodore Roberts starred on the stage.

In the present film, which is taken from the famous stage comedy hit, "White Collars," de Mille has included many novel sound effects and technical advances. Sounds which have never before issued from the screen have been crowded with lavish hand into this one. They include all the familiar noises of a busy, average home, a tea-kettle boiling, a door-bell ringing, a cat purring, coffee perking, and an old-fashioned phonograph, wheezing out an old-fashioned tune.

Conrad Nagel, Beatie Love and Leila Hyams, all experienced on the talking screen, are in the leading roles. Miss Love plays the main comedy role and Mr. Nagel and Miss Hyams have the romantic leads. Robert Ober, Edythe Chapman, James Neill, Paul Kruger and Kenneth Gibson are in the supporting cast. Clara Beranger made the screen adaptation.

"Puttin' on the Ritz."

Harry Richman, who makes his bow as a screen star in "Puttin' on the Ritz," the big United Artists' musical sensation, which opens at the Queen's Theatre on Sunday, has introduced many of the biggest song hits of the last three years including "Muddy Waters," for which he wrote the lyrics, "Blue Skies," "It All Depends on You," "Ain't She Sweet," and "Laugh, Clown, Laugh."

Richman sings a number of original songs written by Irving Berlin, especially for "Puttin' on the Ritz."

EVERYDAY USE OF TELEVISION.

GIGANTIC MANOEUVRING IN AMERICA.

LEGAL QUESTIONS.

Efforts are being made to obtain the approval of the United States Government to 'gigantic concessions and financial arrangements that will enable television to be put to everyday use.

The consent of the U. S. Government is stated to be the only thing necessary to enable television to be brought to the masses.

The concessionaires would require the right to control four wireless wavelengths and to increase the power used in telephonic transmissions 30 times.

It is stated that the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. only awaits the settling of the legal questions to inaugurate a television service between principal cities to determine whether or not the public will make use of the system.

30 Times the Cost.

One problem is the high cost of running the televisions. It is estimated that a telephone plus television call will cost at least 30 times as much as a present-day telephone call.

At present the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. is stated to be concentrating purely on telephonic or telegraphic television, that is television over wires, and is leaving the problem of wireless television to the Radio Corporation of America.

At present, it is understood, wireless television is not so far advanced in technical detail as the other type.

Talkie Broadcasts.

With telephonic television, it is proposed to project only the faces of the speakers. With wireless television, however, it would be possible to send out talking pictures over the ether.

Such a development, it is thought would not injure the cinemas, or theatres, since the high cost of film making would set a prohibitive price upon the broadcasting of a picture which could take almost any sum in a series of runs at different theatres, but the whole cost of which would have to be met by the broadcasting company for a single performance.

SHOCK FOR GOOD VILLAGE.

CRIMELESS RECORD NEARLY BLEMISHED.

NARROW SHAVE.

Crime, that horrible, unheard of thing in Wavendon, Bucks, which claims to be the world's most innocent spot, a modern Eden in England, has crept a step nearer.

Wavendon is the village that knows no crime. For fifteen years its unblemished reputation has been upheld. So peaceful, indeed, are its occupants and its houses, that the county constabulary recently refused the village's request for a local policeman.

But there were shudders in the village one day.

In the three shops and the three inns around which the country cottages nestle, the terrible story of What Happened at Fenny Stratford was being whispered.

Motor Bandits!

For Fenny Stratford is the next village, and the people of Wavendon believe that three motor bandits who raided a factory and then felled a policeman, actually drove away from their crime through Wavendon!

It certainly was a terrible thing to happen in such peaceful surroundings, and it was in awe-struck whispers that the story was unfolded by the villagers of Wavendon.

It all happened, they said, when Police-constable Doughty ("John Doughty, you know 'im; nice feller, too"), walked through Fenny Stratford early one morning and noticed a man walking out of a brush factory carrying a typewriter.

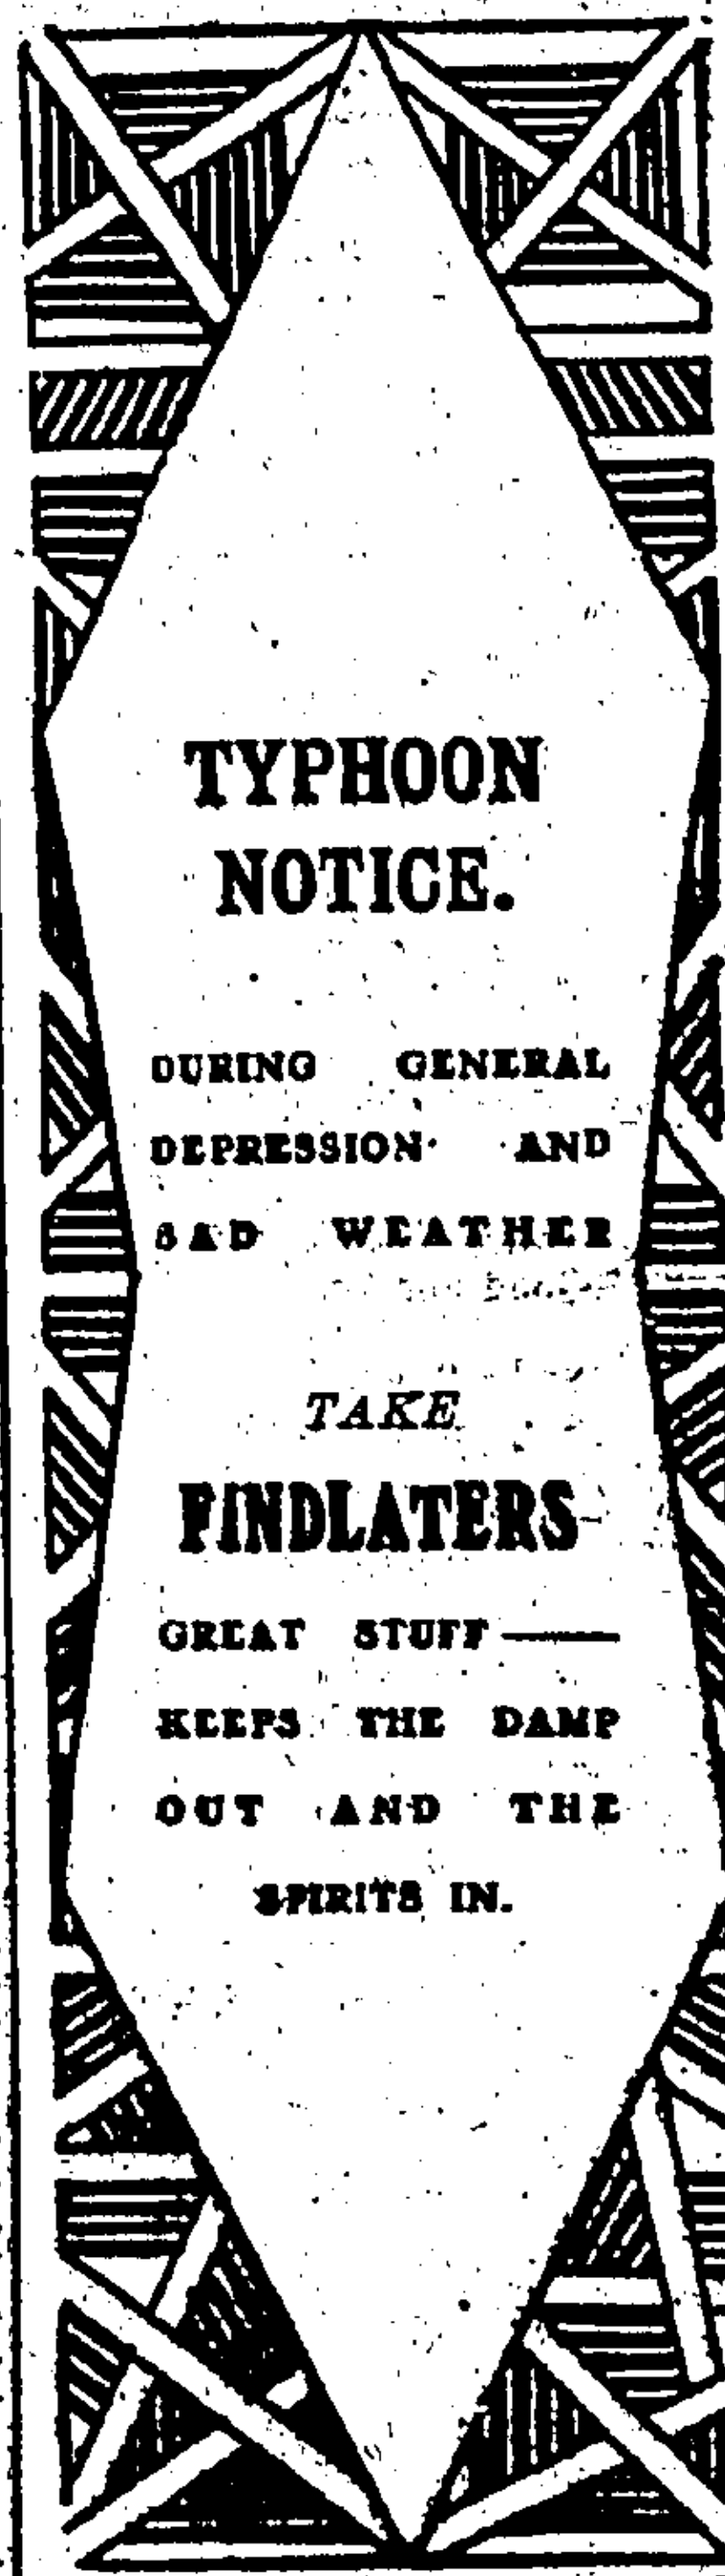

Knocked Out.

Police-constable Doughty decided that people who carry typewriters out of offices at 4 o'clock in the morning are hardly working with good intent.

He closed with the man and they fought for a few seconds before two other men came up out of the darkness, struck him on the head and knocked him unconscious.

The men made their escape in a car, taking with them a cash box containing £10 stolen from the factory and a typewriter.

As soon as he recovered, Doughty ran to the police station and gave the alarm. But the men had escaped in their car.

And Wavendon shuddered at the thought of it.

Yes; England's Eden has had a very close shave.

It was stated that P.C. Doughty was progressing favourably, and that he was in the doctor's care. His injuries were not sufficiently serious to necessitate a hospital bed.

"C" DIVISION.

Heavy Defeat Suffered by Holders.

Playing very fine tennis, the Chinese R.C. pulled off an excellent performance when they defeated the S.C.A.A., the holders of the divisional shield, winning seven of the nine sets. Scores:

Choi Ping-fan and Ng Kam-cheun (Chinese R.C.) beat Wong Pook-nam and Siow Kim-sang 6-4; beat Chan Kam-hung and Chan Kam-moon 6-0; beat Wo Hin-kan and Lui Kwai-lan 6-1.

Hon. Lun-fung and Ip Kai-ko (Chinese R.C.) lost to Wong and Siow 3-6; beat Chan and Chan 6-2; beat Ho and Lui 6-2.

Lau Man-kwong and Lu Tak-lam (Chinese R.C.) beat Wong and Siow 6-3; beat Chan and Chan 6-1; lost to Ho and Lui 4-6.

Civil Service v Indians. This match was played on the Civil Service ground by mutual consent, the visitors winning by nine clear sets. Scores:

V. H. Freeman and G. J. Mitchell (Civil Service) lost to M. O. Hoosen and D. Mohamed 2-6; lost to A. R. Minu and S. A. Bux 3-6; lost to J. S. Ackbar and N. B. Kitchell 5-7.

Introducing A New Empress — EMPRESS OF JAPAN

THE ornamental designs and costly furnishings of the Public Rooms, the majority of which are located on the Promenade Deck, immediately place the Empress of Japan in the front rank of luxury liners. The decorators, realizing that a great number of her days will be spent in warm climates, have favoured cool, fresh colours and avoided the use of too warm furniture coverings.

The lofty walls of the Public Rooms are mostly of untouched or merely waxed wood, which enables the natural beauty of the grain to act as a main decorative motive. A fine example of this "nature" treatment, which has also been carried out in the De Luxe Suites and Special State-rooms, is the lofty, glass-domed Lounge in pale mountain ash and walnut. Characteristic here, as in all the Public Rooms on the Empress of Japan, is the wealth of light obtained by day from large windows and domes, and by night from a maze of electric light effects.

SHIP VIA SEATTLE
GATEWAY TO AMERICAN MARKETS

SEATTLE, by reason of its strategic position, 500 miles nearer to the Orient than any other American port and the unparalleled facilities of its public terminals, offers the trans-Pacific shipper a rare combination of basic advantages:

- 1—One to seven days less "in transit" time with proportionate savings in insurance and interest charges.
- 2—One to seven days quicker delivery to principal markets and distributing centers of America.
- 3—Low handling, insurance, and storage charges at Seattle public terminals.
- 4—Expedient, economical, and efficient trans-shipment from ship to car.

Enjoy these advantages, ship via Seattle! Served by six transcontinental railways and sixteen steamship lines to and from the Orient.

SERIOUS UNREST IN MINDANAO.

CONSTABULARY OPEN WAR IN LANAO.

Manila, May 28.

The Philippine Constabulary forces in Mindanao are starting today to clean up Moro fortresses in Lanao Province. A heavily armed contingent is advancing on a strongly fortified position at Tugaya, where Datu Genassi and Surian Maamur are entrenched with an unknown number of reserves and plenty of ammunition.

The advancing Constabulary force under Colonel Luther Stevens found two bridges destroyed leading to their objective. They halted in order to repair the damage, continuing their march. The attack is expected before nightfall.—Reuter.

OLYMPIC GAMES RESULTS.

CHINESE LADIES BEAT JAPAN IN TENNIS.

JAPAN SWIM WELL.

Tokyo, May 28.
There was again a full programme of events in the Far East Olympic Games to-day.
In the Women's Tennis Doubles, Miss Luck Lee and Miss Gloria Lee (China) defeated Mrs. Asabuki and Miss Kobayashi (Japan) 6/4, 3/6, 7/5.
In the Men's Tennis Doubles, Yamagishi and Shimura (Japan) beat Gordon Lum and Khoo Hoo-hye (China) 6/2, 6/2, 5/7, 8/6. Features of the match were Khoo's fine volleying and the net play of both Chinese players in the third and fourth sets.
At baseball, China defeated the Philippines.
In Men's Volleyball, China beat the Philippines by 22 to 20 and 21 to 15, thus reversing the former meeting and threatening a tie in the Volleyball Division.
In Women's Volleyball, Japan beat China by 21 to 3 and 21 to 7.
In Swimming, Japan made a brilliant start, taking all the places in the 1,500 Metres Free Style and winning the Relay. In the swimming, China failed to get a place or to qualify for the four Championship Events. Three records were smashed and a fourth tied.
In Basketball, the Philippines beat China by 43 to 43. At half-time, China led by 30 to 15, but succumbed to the great second half rally of the Philippines. Tong, China's star player, scored 21 points.—Reuter.

NANKING SAID TO BE ALARMED.

General Ho Ying-ching to be Nationalist Commander of the vanguard at Lanfeng.
It will be recalled that as General Ho Ying-ching was supervising the Nationalist fortifications in Hupeh he has taken no active part in the war against the Shansi-Kuominchun coalition.

50,000 Nanking Troops Taken.

Peking, May 28.
A smashing Kuominchun victory against the Nanking forces is claimed by the Shansi-Kuominchun military headquarters here, who claim that, following repeated Kuominchun successful counter-attacks, an overwhelming number of Nationalist prisoners has arrived at Chengchow, where the Kuominchun Commanders cannot find accommodation for them. Therefore, orders have been given by the Kuominchun leaders to form concentration camps at Hsin Chien and Changteh for the accommodation of the prisoners. The lowest estimate is that more than fifty thousand Nationalist soldiers have surrendered.
The Shansi Military Headquarters also claim that the Nanking forces are in full retreat along the Peking-Hankow Railway while the vernacular papers state that the Shansi troops have crossed the Yellow River, to the north of Tsinanfu, and are approaching the latter city.—Reuter.

[Tsinanfu is the capital of Shantung Province and is considered an important strategic position along the Tientsin-Pukow Railway.]

FURTHER TROUBLE AT RANGOON.

TWO PEOPLE KILLED BY POLICE FIRING.

Rangoon, May 28.
Military Police were compelled to fire this evening on a party of Indian Moslems who held up a tram car and assaulted the Burman passengers and then stoned the Military Police when the latter appeared. Two persons were killed.—Reuter.

Earlier Message.

Rangoon, May 28.
Communal feeling is dying down. There was no trouble last night and the city was quiet this morning. To-day's hospital returns show an increase of 10 dead and 46 injured.—Reuter.

WOMAN ALLEGES DESERTION.

NEED OF RULING ON THE CONCUBINE QUESTION.

A PITIFUL STORY.

The life-history of a Chinese woman, who is bringing a summons for desertion against her husband, was related by Mr. M. K. Lo in an interesting case, involving many points on Chinese family customs, which opened before Mr. Grantham to-day at the Central Police Court.

The woman is Chan Wai-man, otherwise known as Chau Chan-ze, and she is summoning Chau Kee-lin, her husband, to whom she claims she was married according to the customs defining the position of a kit-fat wife.

Mr. M. K. Lo appears for the complainant, while the defendant is represented by Mr. F. X. D'Almada, Sr.

Mr. Lo in opening his case said:—This summons is by a married woman against her husband for desertion. In order more or less to give notice to my friend of the attack, I purposely stated in the application, and also in the summons, that the desertion alleged is desertion on July 16th, 1923, and has been continuing to the present time.

Ruling Needed.

Your Worship, I propose to open rather at length on this case, because I venture to say that although seldom if ever your Worship could have a case before you which has so many elements of callousness—totally devoid of all humanitarian feelings on the part of the husband—it is an important case also from another point of view. This case is very important because it is time there is some ruling from some Court as to the status of a married woman against her husband and in particular on the rights alleged and arrogated by a married man that he could take any woman into his house by merely calling her a concubine. I forebear to make any comments now, but after going right into the facts, I would like to make a few observations before calling evidence.

My client is now 20 years old. She is married at the ripe age of 18 according to Chinese customs. I understand my friend is not disputing that she is a kit-fat wife. The parties were married in Canton on December 15, 1926, and in the following year, the man's family moved down to Hongkong, living at a house in Des Voeux Road West. The married couple lived with the parents.

Defendant's Means.

In August or so of the same year, the defendant's father, that is to say my client's father-in-law, died. We believe that he died and left a great deal of money—a firm in Hongkong, and properties in Hongkong and Penang. I mention these merely to show that the husband could do much as he wanted to: in other words, that he is not a man who has absolutely no money and could do nothing. He had, in fact, some means.

In the ninth moon of the same year, the husband left that house and moved with his own natural mother, that is his father's concubine, to another house in Queen's Road West. Up to this time, the wife's own father was a businessman of some substance and some position, but unfortunately his business failed in Canton about that time and he went to Shanghai, where he died about the seventh moon of last year.

Continuing, Mr. Lo said that nothing occurred to ruffle the matrimonial sea after the marriage of the couple, until the death of the man's father, when the demeanour of the husband, underwent a complete change. He made it a habit of going out to dinners and stayed out all night, returning the next morning to "sleep it off" and then going out again.

Suicide Suggested.

He ill-treated his wife and made life a misery for her, was brutal in actions and foul of mouth, finding fault with the most trivial things, and suggested that she should commit suicide.

When in a moment of utter misery and weariness, she asked

CENTRE OF INDIA TROUBLE.

CONGRESS COMMITTEE HELD RESPONSIBLE.

LORDS URGE ACTION.

London, May 28.

In the House of Lords to-day, Lord Peel called for a statement of the situation in India. The fullest support should, he said, be given to the Government of India to crush and end the disorders which appear to be organised from a common centre.

He suggested that instead of arresting the leaders in particular disturbances it was better to strike at the centres of the disturbance—the Congress Committee themselves—and that a greater effort should be made to counter the flood of misrepresentations of British policy in the vernacular.

Lord Reading said what was new and serious about the present disturbances was the evidence that an organisation of civil disobedience had been set up. Civil disobedience could not be tolerated and the Government must put forth all the weapons at its command to break it.

Police Fortitude.

Earl Russell, Under-Secretary for India, having surveyed the situation in various centres, said there was no question of the loyalty of the Indian Army and he paid a tribute to the work of the Indian Police who frequently were pelted by brick-bats, insulted and not allowed to protect themselves except in a last resort.

The Government had shown the utmost limit of forbearance in quelling the disorders and had resorted to firearms only when conditions made it absolutely necessary.

Earl Russell paid a tribute to the Viceroy who had shown immense patience and had done nothing that could be regarded as provocative. The Government had assured him of their full and unstinted support.—British Wireless.

Dharasana Arrests.

Dharasana, May 28.
Batches of Congress volunteers are still converging on Untadi camp which has been twice raided and cleared by the Police. Fifty-two people were arrested there to-day.

Ambalal Patel, who was in charge of the movement here and who was arrested a few days ago, has been sentenced to six months' rigorous imprisonment.

He is not related to the ex-Speaker, Mr. Patel, the present leader of the civil disobedience movement who is now at Rawalpindi investigating the recent troubles at Peshawar.—Reuter.

NAVAL CONSTRUCTION BY ITALY.

LARGE SUM SET ASIDE FOR THIS YEAR.

Rome, May 28.

The Chamber has adopted the Naval estimates which total 1,476,000,000 lire, being 246,000,000 lire over last year's estimates owing to increased pay and the spending of 192,000,000 lire on reconstruction work.

A sum of 600,000,000 lire is now set aside for new construction in 1930. The global tonnage does not greatly differ from that of 1929, the preponderance being given to submarines.—Reuter.

how that could be done, he produced a razor and left it on the table, saying:—"There you are; you can cut your throat with it and die." He then left the house, and never returned except on one occasion.

The woman took to her bed, ate nothing and tried to think out the scheme of her life. The upshot was that she took her husband's advice, picked up the razor and committed suicide.

Woman Recovers.

Mr. Lo:—I said "committed suicide" because she had a terrible gash in her throat. When this took place, apparently the whole household was aroused and an ambulance was sent for, and she was taken to the Government Civil Hospital, where the usual battle of life and death was fought. She had stayed there for a fortnight or 10 days, when she recovered and was discharged.

Mr. Lo said that the case was taken before the S.C.A., when it was found advisable for the woman to return to the country to live with her mother. She recently returned and the present summons was then instituted.

The hearing was adjourned.
